Dumbarton House

Annual Report

Fiscal Year 2012
September 2011 – August 2012

Headquarters & Museum – The National Society of The Colonial Dames of America
LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

The 2012 fiscal year was successful in several regards for Dumbarton House. An ambitious schedule of programs and exhibitions in the intimate setting of our historic house museum attracted audiences in impressive numbers, some 19,000 in total. An outdoor summer film festival, jazz and classical music performances, a show of Federal period fashions and, for a fourth year running, a museum walk weekend in the Kalorama and Dupont neighborhoods of Washington, D.C. were only a few of the programs that made Dumbarton House a popular destination.

The Friends of Dumbarton House annual campaign achieved record results, with over $200,000 in contributions from over 2,000 true and loyal friends in the year. The generous response to our appeal is gratifying. It is a ringing endorsement of the importance of our mission and tangible proof of the pride we take in Dumbarton House, headquarters of The National Society of The Colonial Dames of America.

Dumbarton House strengthened its relations with the Georgetown community in the 2012 fiscal year. Our services to the community did not go unrecognized, and last December Dumbarton House was the proud recipient of the Georgetown Business Association’s Communitarian Award.

A fitted carpet with a pattern dating to 1800 and window treatments that combine elements of two designs, one from 1804 and the other from 1792 were installed in the parlor. The room now looks much the way it must have when Joseph and Maria Nourse made Dumbarton House their home.

Several capable and dedicated members of staff left Dumbarton House during the year. They made invaluable contributions to our success and lasting impressions on their colleagues during their tenure with us. We wish them satisfaction and success in all their future endeavors. Their departure presented an opportunity for us to review our staffing needs and redistribute responsibilities to meet the requirements of our headquarters and museum operations efficiently and effectively.

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to Janie Grantham for her leadership and support during her eight-year term as chair of the Dumbarton House Board. She and I are confident that Dumbarton House will have a bright future. Our relations with our neighbors in Georgetown will grow stronger, and our programs and exhibitions will continue to draw visitors to the historic house museum in even greater numbers.

Yours sincerely,

Karen L. Daly, Executive Director

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Friends,

My sincere thanks go out to every Dame from every Corporate Society who has supported our NSCDA National Headquarters over the years, both through annual dues and gifts to the Friends of Dumbarton House campaign.

It has been a pleasure working with the Board members whom you have sent to represent each Corporate Society. What a committed, talented group of women! It is owing to their efforts that we have met our budget from year to year and brought the Lemoine Sampler to Headquarters. And we now have an NSCDA gallery in the museum showcasing the work of every Society in advancing the NSCDA mission. I am delighted that the funding for the building project in the non-museum areas of Headquarters has been secured. Our NSCDA National Headquarters will have adequate space for staff to serve our members better and care for the Dumbarton House museum collections more effectively.

Our achievements could not have been possible without the strong support of Headquarters’ staff and our executive director, Karen L. Daly. Sincere thanks to each one of them.

I am confident that success will continue under the leadership of Anna Duff. It has been a distinct privilege to serve as chairman of the Dumbarton House Board.

Sincerely,

Janie Grantham, Chairman

PROGRAMS AND PARTNERSHIPS

Programs

Dumbarton House remained a popular destination in Washington, D.C. in the 2012 fiscal year, serving an audience of almost 19,000 in the period. A total of 4,203 visitors joined tours of the museum, 25 percent more than the year before. A wide range of programs, including lectures, concerts, theatrical performances, film screenings, walking tours, and a book signing, drew over 5,000 participants. Among them:

• Three films based on the romantic novels of Jane Austen were screened in summer for a combined audience of 581 viewers. The film festival was made possible through the generous corporate sponsorship of the Georgetown offices of Long and Foster Realtors.
• The museum played host to 264 guests at an “Evening in Casablanca” last March with a jazz ensemble and dancing.

In July, with funding from the Humanities Council of Washington, D.C., Dumbarton House produced a video on the War of 1812. Following a quiz show format, the film, directed by Diane Williams, is aimed at promoting knowledge of the war among citizens.

Partnerships

• The Georgetown Business Association honored Dumbarton House with its Communitarian Award last December in recognition of its service to the Georgetown community.
• The museum loaned two objects from its collection to the Washington Antiques Show exhibition in January, one a dinner invitation from President John Adams to Joseph and Maria Nourse, and the second, a dinner invitation from First Lady Dolley Madison to a Miss Pease.
• The Citizens Association of Georgetown presented its William Cochran Award to Executive Director Karen L. Daly in May in recognition of her “exceptional efforts to protect and enhance the community’s parkland and architectural resources.”

Antiques Week in New York City

Last January, for a second consecutive year, Corresponding Secretary Ruthie Frangopoulos organized a New York Antiques Week program. A group of 23 Ladies of the Dumbarton House Board, some of them accompanied by their spouses, traveled to New York City for tours of Grange, Alexander Hamilton’s former home, the Morris-Jumel Mansion, Manhattan’s oldest house, the New York Historical Society and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The group also attended the Winter Antiques Show.

National Headquarters

• Karen Daly traveled to New Jersey to attend the two-day Region IV workshop and meeting of the National Board of the NSCDA in October. Then, in May, she traveled to San Francisco to attend the Region I meeting. There she made a presentation for the National Museum Properties Committee on efforts to engage the community through interpretation, gardens and partnerships.
• For the first time, Dumbarton House staff members assisted with registration and planning for the October NSCDA National Board meeting, held in New Jersey.
• Dames affiliated with the Alexandria Town Committee of the Virginia Society toured the historic house museum at the time of their meeting at Dumbarton House on October 7. Dames affiliated with the Tennessee Society toured Dumbarton House on April 7.
• The District of Columbia Society hosted several programs at Dumbarton House in the fiscal year. On November 8, Vince Vaise, chief of interpretation at Baltimore’s Fort McHenry National Monument and Historic Shrine, gave a lecture on the War of 1812. On February 22, to mark George Washington’s birthday, there was a screening of The Washingtons of Sulgrave Manor, a documentary film written and directed by Ken Winber. On March 14, Mrs. Brantly Knowles, former chairman of the National Museum Properties Committee and current NSCDA archivist, made a presentation on the organization’s diverse museum properties across the country.

Historic Site Maintenance

Masonry

With a grant from the National Trust for Historic Preservation’s Dorothea De Schweinitz Fund for the District of Columbia, a detailed study of the mortar used in the construction and repair of the facades of Dumbarton House was conducted. An analysis of mortar samples taken from 18 areas at six elevations yielded their composition. The formulas that resulted will be used in mixing replacement mortars corresponding to different construction and repair dates whenever maintenance is required. Lo and behold, in the process of collecting samples, a counterfeit copper British half penny (circa 1775) was discovered.

Fire Protection

Having reached the end of its useful life, the site-wide fire alarm system failed in summer and, as a matter of urgency, had to be completely upgraded earlier than planned. New smoke detectors, fire pulls, control panel, and software were installed. Dumbarton House staff overnighted in the building’s West Wing and, to ensure the safety of the building, collection, staff, and visitors, a walk-through of the structure was conducted hourly around the clock until the system was functioning again.

Historic Interiors

Parlor

Following extensive research, a new fitted carpet was laid in the historic parlor in summer. The pattern, dating to 1800, was taken from the archives of Grosvenor Wilton Company Ltd., one of the U.K.’s oldest carpet manufacturers. Its bold original color palette – yellow, blue, green, white, and black – reflects the prevailing fashion of the Federal period.

Natalie Larson, a historic textile furnishings specialist formerly of Colonial Williamsburg, designed and installed window treatments in the parlor. The pattern combines elements of two designs, one by George Smith dating from 1804, and the other by Thomas Sheraton from 1792. The installation entailed an examination of the holes surrounding the windows to determine where curtain pins, pintels and rods may have been located. An analysis of putty and paint helped date the treatments used over the generations, and a metallurgic assessment offered clues to the hardware placement.

Cataloguing

Caring for the hundreds of historic artworks, artifacts, manuscripts and documents that comprise the museum’s collection remains central to the Dumbarton House mission. A generous two-year grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services concluded in the 2012 Fiscal Year. With the grant, the Dumbarton House collections were inventoried, photographs and collections records were updated, and reports on the condition of each artifact were produced.

A second grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities came to an end in the year under review. It covered the cost of procuring furniture for collections storage and archival supplies.
COLLECTIONS AND EXHIBITIONS

Collections

In the 2012 fiscal year, several important objects were acquired for Dumbarton House’s permanent collection. Among them were three pieces of Chinese export porcelain in the Morris family “Quaker Farmer” pattern and a 1793 invitation to Joseph Nourse and his family to attend a ball following George Washington’s election to a second term as president.

The District of Columbia Society donated a Chippendale armchair that had once belonged to Robert Peter of Tudor Place, Georgetown’s first mayor. It is currently on view in the museum’s Best Chamber. With a contribution made in honor of Martha Randall Galbraith of the Texas Society by her mother, Dumbarton House acquired a four-piece silver tea and coffee service by John Gaither, a silversmith who worked in Alexandria and Washington, D.C. from 1807 to 1816.

Exhibitions

Music in the Federal City
To showcase the lively music culture of Washington, D.C. during the Federal period, Dumbarton House displayed musical instruments and music books from the period in the museum’s upper passage. The exhibition included books that had been owned by early resident Maria Nourse and two of President James Monroe’s daughters, Eliza and Maria. The exhibition coincided with the 125th anniversary of the Friday Morning Music Club, a group of musicians who perform throughout the year at Dumbarton House in concerts that are free and open to the public.

The American Red Cross at Dumbarton House 1942 - 1945
To mark the seventieth anniversary of its association with the National Capital Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, Dumbarton House mounted an exhibition that included photographs and documents highlighting the work of the Red Cross during World War II. The NSCDA closed Dumbarton House museum in wartime and made the building available for relief services benefitting American soldiers overseas and citizens at home. Dumbarton House also hosted a blood drive as part of the commemoration.

NSCDA Preservation Pilot Gallery
Last fall, in keeping with its Interpretive Plan, Dumbarton House installed a pilot NSCDA gallery on the second floor of the museum, in the room that formerly had been the Parlor Chamber. The gallery, Daughters Preserving the Virtues of Their Ancestors, is based on a conceptual plan developed by students enrolled in a museum studies class at The George Washington University. It focuses on the mission of the NSCDA with regard to historic preservation, patriotic service and education. It also recounts the history of three of the organization’s properties: Gunston Hall, Sulgrave Manor and Dumbarton House.

Jennie Buehler, a recent graduate of the Corcoran College of Art and Design, was retained as an intern to design the exhibit. The pilot NSCDA gallery is the product of the collaborative efforts of Dames, Dumbarton House staff, volunteers and many others.

A song in Maria Nourse’s music book c.1780. The book, a gift of Mrs. R. C. Williams, was included in an exhibition devoted to the music of the Federal period.

Our gratitude goes to all our donors for the loyal and generous support they extended Dumbarton House in Fiscal Year 2012. Although every effort has been made to include all donors who supported Dumbarton House with gifts of $50 or more between September 1, 2011 and August 31, 2012, omissions and errors may occur. Please let us know if there has been an omission, or if amendments are needed in a message to DevelopmentAssistant@DumbartonHouse.org.

Members of the Abigail Adams and Dolley Madison Societies play a key role in advancing the mission of Dumbarton House as we strive to preserve our historic house and collections while educating the public about life in the early capital.

Thanks to FY2012 Donors Who Adopted an Object

Through a generous contribution from Madeleine Hughes and Janie Grantham in honor of Mrs. James W. (Debbie) Wilson in FY 2011, conservation of this Oriental sewing box was completed in FY2012. Its black lacquer (Urushi) finish had developed hundreds of fissures, and its gilt decorated surface had been abraded. Conserving the object was a painstaking process. The box was placed inside a specially made wooden box, and bamboo dowels were used to press the lacquer where it had lifted from the surface back into place.

The sewing box had been a gift from Miss Carolyn R. Nash, a member of the District of Columbia Society in 1966.

In Memoriam

Sadly, Dumbarton House Board Member-At-Large Connie Grine (Mrs. William Bark Grine) passed away on May 7, 2012. She served in several capacities during the 11 years she was a member of the Board. Initially she was the Lady of the Dumbarton House Board representing North Carolina. Ultimately she was named vice-chairman. From 2008 until her death, she was a member of the Buildings and Grounds Committee. All of us who had the pleasure of working with Connie miss her enlightened leadership and unflagging support.
MISSION

The National Society of The Colonial Dames of America actively promotes our national heritage through historic preservation, patriotic service, and educational projects.

The mission of the Dumbarton House museum, a Federal period historic house museum, is to preserve the historic structure and its collections and to educate the public about life in Washington, D.C., during the early years of the Republic. Emphasis is placed on Joseph Nourse, first Register of the Treasury, and his family, and their occupation of the property from 1804 through 1813.
