

CONGRESSIONAL SEMINAR LEGACY SCHOLARS

Legacies* are welcome to participate in the NSCDA Congressional Seminar. Legacies are ineligible for the Congressional Seminar scholarships but may attend the Seminar at their own expense.

Legacy application process, forms, fees, and instructions for submission.

- Process: Legacies must submit an application by March 1 to reserve a space in the Congressional Seminar. Applications received later than March 1 will be accepted on a space-available basis.

Application Form: Legacies complete the Legacy Scholars application form posted on the Student Resources section of the NSCDA website. Legacy applicants submit their applications directly to the National Essay Consultant. If a legacy submits his/her application to a local or Corporate Society Dame, the application will necessarily be forwarded to the National Essay Consultant.

- Recommended Preparation: The Legacy Scholar is encouraged to study the assigned essay topic intently to be able to participate fully in discussions in the Seminar.
- Legacy Fees: Fees for the Congressional Seminar tuition are due by March 15, payable to: "NSCDA"

Amount for 2027 Congressional Seminar Tuition: TBD

Note/Memo/For: "Congressional Seminar Legacy Scholar"

Checks and Legacy Scholar Payment Forms should be mailed to:

NSCDA—Congressional Seminar

2715 Q Street, N.W.

Washington, D.C. 20007-3071

- Cancellations: Tuition fees for the Congressional Seminar are nonrefundable after March 15. NSCDA submits all tuition payments to its long-time partner for this program, The Workshops Foundation. The Workshops Foundation immediately allocates the fees to cover each student's lodging, meals, buses for excursions, and other expenses incurred on participants' behalf.

*For purposes of the Congressional Seminar, legacies are defined as children, step-children, grandchildren, and step-grandchildren of active Dames.
